

The incident that inspired a profound understanding

The epiphany that Isaac Newton experienced when an apple fell from a tree is often viewed as a revelation spurred by mere happenstance. Perhaps. But while a chance occurrence may have driven Newton to his theory of universal gravitation, more likely it was his greater drive to understand the world around him in every way. That directed inspiration profoundly changed the way we live.

As a Member Firm of M Financial Group, we have a unique intellectual curiosity—we look at our clients' worlds, learning and gaining insight from which we derive the inspiration to create product and service solutions unequaled in the industry.

To explore working with us—and accessing the innovation, client advocacy, and differentiation of M Financial—please visit www.mackfinancial.com.

M Financial Group™
Member Firm

Photo: Mike Peel